Introduction

The Government of Newfoundland and Labrador's Poverty Reduction Strategy is a government-wide initiative to prevent, reduce and alleviate poverty. Our primary goal is to transform Newfoundland and Labrador from a province with the most poverty to one with the least.

One of the goals of the Poverty Reduction Strategy is to increase awareness of existing programs and services for persons and families with low incomes. This Guide can help people find out what Provincial Government programs and services are available to them.

For more information about Provincial Government programs and services not listed in this guide, please visit the Government of Newfoundland and Labrador's website at www.gov.nl.ca.

Programs are listed within eight major groups:

- Financial Help
- Housing
- Shelter and Home Supports
- Education and Learning Help
- Justice Help
- Culture and Recreation
- Employment (Job) Help
- Medical, Health and Wellness

Programs are also broken down by who is eligible for them: General, Families, Persons with Disabilities, Youth, and Adults 65+. Some programs are for people with income below a certain level or for people in certain situations.

The Provincial Government department responsible for the program or service is listed after the program name.

If there is only one telephone number for a program, or the telephone number is only listed once, it will be listed with the program information. If there is more than one telephone number, or if it listed more than once, the information will be listed at the back of this Guide (pages 63 – 66).

For more information on provincial programs and services visit www.gov.nl.ca

Did you know that even if you have no income or do not earn enough to pay taxes, filing an income tax return can help you?

Some program benefits are provided automatically based on your income tax return.

Did you know filing your income tax every year gives you access to many provincial and federal benefits?

Did you know that Income Tax and Credits can be back filed for up to seven years?

If you need help filing, call the Canada Revenue Agency at 1-800-959-8281, TTY 1-800-665-0354.

Some programs require a copy of your Notice of Assessment before you can get benefits. A Notice of Assessment is the form that the Canada Revenue Agency sends after processing returns that states the amount of taxes to be paid or refunded.

Note: For some programs and services, individuals may have to give personal information and/or apply. For other programs, eligibility is based on information from filing yearly income tax returns.

Financial Help

Several programs provide direct financial help to people with low income. An application must be completed for many of these programs or services.

General

Income Support Benefits (HRLE)

Income Support benefits (sometimes referred to as social assistance) provide financial assistance for basic personal needs such as food, clothing and shelter. (Also see section: Housing, Shelter and Home Supports, page 22). Eligibility is based on income.

Other benefits may also be available depending on the person's needs, for example:

- Medical transportation
- Eye care
- Dentures
- Special diet allowance
- Comforts Allowance (for people in hospitals and shelters)
- Fuel Supplement
- Burials
- High School Incentive Allowance
- Victims of Violence Start Up Allowance
- Job Start Benefit
- Referrals to other services, departments or agencies

- Blind Persons Supplement
- Special Needs Assistance
- Housekeeper's Allowance
- Municipal Taxes Benefit
- Foundation Plan (drug card)
- Cost of Living Allowance for Coastal Labrador

To find out more about any of the benefits listed above, call one of the HRLE telephone numbers on page 63.

Income Support Appeals (HRLE)

Anyone who is notified that they are not eligible for Income Support benefits or who has had their benefits reduced or suspended may ask for a review of the decision. For more help, call the telephone number below.

(709) 729-2479

Harmonized Sales Tax Credit (Finance)

This is paid each October and is included with the federal GST credit. The amount paid is based on income from the year before. A person must file a yearly income tax return to receive this credit. For more help, call the number below.

1-800-959-8281

Home Heating Rebate (Finance)

This is money given to people with a household income below a certain amount, who pay to heat their home. Assistance is available no matter what type of heat source is used. For more help, call one of the telephone numbers below.

(709) 729-16951-866-990-3444

To get an application form:

www.fin.gov.nl.ca/fin/homeheating/HHRApplication.pdf

Student Financial Services (Education)

Provides funding (Student Loans and Grants) to eligible students who are attending (or plan to attend) an educational institution such as college, university or a technical institute. For more help, call one of the Student Financial Services telephone numbers on page 65.

Seniors' Benefit (Finance)

Provides a payment to seniors who have a low income. The amount paid is based on family net income from the previous year. To qualify, a person must be 65 years of age by December 31st of the taxation year. Persons must file an income tax return every year to receive this refund. For more help, call the telephone number or email the address below.

(709) 729-3166

TaxPolicy@mail.gov.nl.ca

Families

Newfoundland and Labrador Child Benefit (NLCB) (HRLE)

This benefit is intended to help families raise their children. It is a tax credit for families with low income who have dependent children under 18 years of age. To be eligible for the NLCB, parents or guardians must file an income tax return every year and apply for the Canada Child Tax Benefit (page 62).

Private Child Care (HRLE)

Parents or guardians receiving Income Support benefits while attending training or going to work may be able to get help with the cost of child care. Assistance with the cost of private or unregulated child care will only be considered when regulated child care is not available. For more help, call one of the HRLE telephone numbers on page 63.

Child Care does not need to be regulated if: there are 4 or fewer children or if the care is provided by a close relative

Child Care Subsidy Program (HCS)

Helps parents or guardians pay for child care in a licensed child care centre or a regulated family child care home. Families must need child care for one of the following reasons:

- To go to work or training
- Parent has ongoing health care appointments
- Disability or illness of parent
- Child development
- Family support

Some or all of the cost may be covered depending on family income.

For more help, call one of the Regional Health Authority telephone numbers on page 64.

Regulated Child Care services are subject to provincial regulations and are inspected and monitored.

Mother Baby Nutrition Supplement (HRLE)

Provides financial assistance to low income pregnant women and families with children under 1 year of age who are eligible for the Newfoundland and Labrador Child Benefit (NLCB). The supplement is designed to assist with the extra cost of eating healthy during pregnancy and during a child's first year of life. The pre-natal component of the MBNS is administered by HRLE and is issued to the expecting mother while the post-natal component is added to the child's NLCB entitlement until one year of age. Also, referrals can be made to Community Health Nurses and Family Resource Centres. Information on various community supports such as Healthy Baby Clubs is given. For more help, call the telephone number below.

1-800-508-4788

High School Incentive Allowance (HRLE)

Families receiving Income Support with dependent children over the age of 18 and under the age of 21 are eligible for this allowance providing the child attends the regular school system on a full time basis. For more information, call one of the HRLE telephone numbers on page 63.

Progressive Family Growth Benefit (Finance)

The Progressive Family Growth Benefit provides $1,000 to individuals and families who have a baby or adopt. Children must be born or placed in the home for purposes of adoption on or after January 1, 2008 to qualify for this benefit. For more help call the telephone number or visit the website below.

Housing, Shelter and Home Supports

General

Newfoundland Labrador Housing (Housing) provides affordable rental housing to individuals and families with low income, including seniors, single parents, single people, Aboriginal people, and persons with disabilities.

Rental Housing Program (Housing)

Individuals or families may be eligible for low income rental housing if:

- Total household income is below a certain yearly level
- More than 30% of total household income is spent on rent and heat

Housing also works with community groups to offer housing for those with low income. For more help, call one of the Housing telephone numbers on page 63.

www.nlhc.nl.ca/programs/rentalho.htm

Did you know the City of St. John's Non-Profit Housing Division has 1, 2, 3 and 4 bedroom houses available for people who earn low and moderate incomes. Rent is based on family income. For more help, call the City of St. John's at (709) 576-8196 or visit their website:

www.stjohns.ca/cityservices/housing/index.jsp

Rental Supplement Program (Housing)

Pays a portion of the rent in private rental accommodations. It is available for households that have a total income under a certain level per year. This supplement is paid to the landlord. To find out about the program or for more help, call one of the Housing telephone numbers on page 63.

Provincial Home Repair Program (housing)

Provides money for:

- Completing vital repairs for homeowners with low income
- Bringing homes up to safety standards
- Making homes more accessible for seniors and persons with disabilities

Emergency repairs that are needed to make a home safe are given priority. For more help, call one of the Housing telephone numbers on page 63.

Education Incentive Program (housing)

Tenants of Housing, with a child, dependent or adult in high school or a post-secondary school, may receive a monthly payment for each student. This program is considered exempt income by Income Support. It will not affect the amount of Income Support received by tenants of Housing. For more help, call one of the Housing telephone numbers on page 63.

Victims of Violence (housing)

If you are living in an abusive situation, and are seeking safe and affordable housing, Newfoundland Labrador Housing may be able to help you. For more information, call one of the Housing telephone numbers on page 63.

- Receiving basic Income Support benefits from HRLE
- A subsidized resident in a long-term care home or personal care home.

- The Access Plan

Provides coverage of eligible prescription medications for persons and families with low incomes. The amount of coverage is based on income level and family status. To apply, an application form must be completed. Application forms are available at pharmacies or physician offices, online or by calling the number below.

- The Assurance Plan

Offers protection for persons and families against the financial burden of eligible high drug costs. This can be from the cost of one extremely high cost drug or the combined cost of different drugs. Coverage depends on income level and eligible drug costs. To apply, an application form must be completed. Application forms are available at pharmacies or physician offices, online or by calling the number below.

- The 65Plus Plan

Provides coverage of eligible prescription drugs to residents 65 years of age and older who receive OAS benefits and the GIS.

Coverage does not include dispensing fees. No application is necessary. A Prescription Drug Program card is automatically issued to eligible persons when HCS is notified by Service Canada that an individual is in receipt of the GIS and OAS benefits.

For help with any of these plans call the telephone number below.
